bamboo story

Welcome to Paw Print!

June 26 is "Take Your Dog To Work Day," an event where thousands of employers celebrate the great companionship between dog owners and their four-legged friends.

If your company invites your dog to work, we've got a few good tips to prepare your pup for the work day. Be sure to dog-proof your work area so your pup feels as comfortable as possible – bring a bed or blanket to provide the comforting scents of home. Also, pack a doggie bag with snacks and toys to help keep your dog occupied. Be sure to schedule plenty of potty breaks to avoid accidents and don't forget to pack disposable waste bags. Finally, be sure to introduce your colleagues to your pet – they're an important member of your family!
